Sunday of Divine Mercy

JOINING THE COMPANY OF BELIEVERS.

What will help you to believe? Today's scripture readings tell of faith and doubt. They offer stories "recorded to help you believe," as the passage from John's Gospel (20:31) remarks today. There is an urgency about this. On this Second Sunday of Easter we are challenged to join the company of believers—countless men and women who witnessed the power of the apostles' faith. There is no doubt that this power comes from Jesus Christ. The second reading, from the book of Revelation, reports John's mystical vision of the Son of Man, who proclaims, "Once I was dead, but now I live" (Revelation 1:18). The Gospel gathers everyone but Thomas to see the Risen Jesus and receive the Holy Spirit from him. Like Thomas, we who have come along later must have faith so that we can have life.

Mark Your Calendars!

New Date for Dedication of our new Church
 Sunday, April 17, 2016 @ 3:00 pm
(Your Help is Needed!! See Insert)

Many, many thanks to all who made this EASTER SEASON so special, from getting the grounds and the church ready, to helping with the different receptions, to serving in one of the many ministries (Adult Choir, Instrumentalists, Lectors, Cup Ministers, Altar Servers, Ushers) which made this year's celebration truly meaningful. A Special Thanks to the Parish Ministries & their Friday Crews who made our Lenten Family Fridays so tasty and to the wonderful volunteers who assisted with the Great Easter Egg Give Away and the Seder Meal. None of this would have been possible if not for the generosity of our parishioners with their time, talent, and treasure. God Bless!

Sunday of Divine Mercy

Reflecting on God's Word

Most of us find ourselves remembering a mixture of both good times and bad times. We are able to call up the blessings, those times when we lie back on the grass, hands behind our head, gazing at clouds and dreaming of how they shape themselves into silhouettes of what we've known and where we've been, a scrapbook of images dear to us. We hang on to such times.

But other memories come along as well, clouds drearier if not also stormier. Adolescence, maybe ~ it can still taste like a copper penny. Or the growing-up relationship we once had with a parent ~ some still limp from it, a bruised or broken spirit that never healed the way it should have. Or the feeling that comes from never having made the team ~ not the basketball team or love's team or even life's team. It's as if we got on the wrong bus when everyone left for the game, and ever after we gaze through the window at all the other buses filled with could've-been friends who never wave back.

Mercifully life moves on. And if we're blessed, it moves on into goodnesses of other sorts. Yet not without the scars, those ways our flesh has of remembering. In some ways they become the buoys that point out the deep-water channel in the river of life, markers for safe sailing as well as for rocky beds that rip us open.

So we remember the wounds, which is what Thomas did. They marked the pain for him, but they also marked the real Jesus. He knew that if the wounds into which he would put his hands were real, so would Jesus be, and so also the demise of death. For Thomas it was the wounds that proved resurrection and so moved him into faith. ~ Rev. Joseph J. Juknialis

Living God's Word

We all doubt; it is the essence of faith. The difference is in where we look for renewed strength and reaffirmed faith. For some the thermometer or measuring stick is the calm of life. For others it is in our wounded helplessness that we come to faith simply because we recognize that the new life that comes is not our doing.
